What is a Racial Equity Impact Assessment?

Racial equity assessments are designed to integrate explicit consideration of racial equity in decisions, including policies, practices, programs, and budgets. It is both a product and a process. Use of a racial equity tool can help to develop strategies and actions that reduce racial inequities and improve success for all groups.

Racial Equity Impact Assessment Checklist

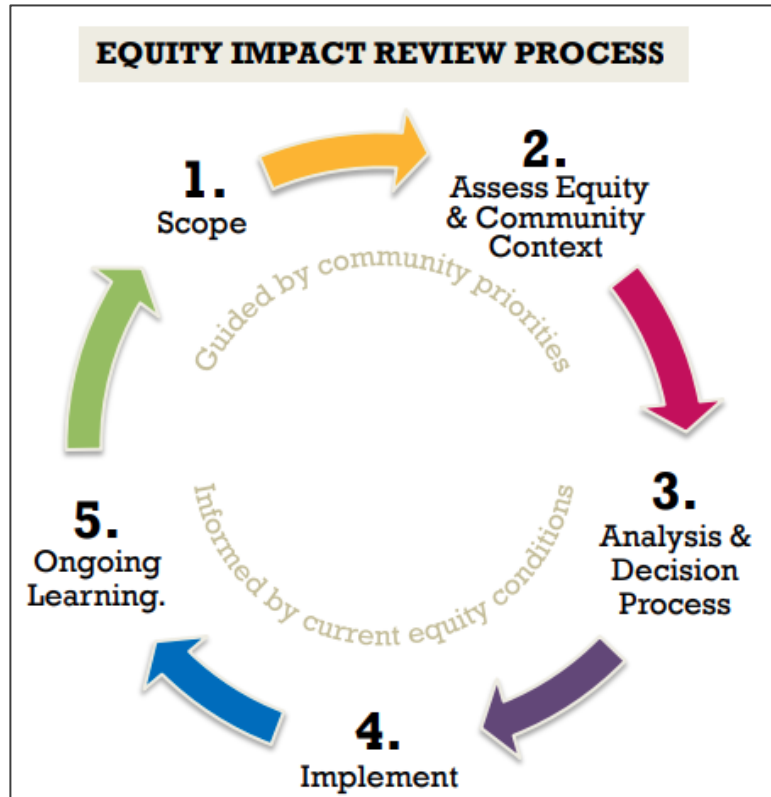

Complete the worksheet for each proposal to be assessed. Use the checklist below to keep track of your progress using the Racial Equity Impact Assessment. See the guidance and resources for each step for additional information.

- Early inclusive engagement. Conduct inclusive community engagement before completing the assessment, preferably before the comprehensive plan update process begins to identify key issues to address in the plan.
- Step 1. Identify comprehensive plan proposals to assess. Select the policies, programs, or other elements of the comprehensive plan to include in the assessment, with consideration of input from the early engagement. Identify desired outcomes.
- Step 2. Gather and analyze information and data. Once the proposals are identified, use qualitative and quantitative data to identify and analyze potential impacts to underserved communities.
- Step 3. Engage communities. Once the proposals are identified, engage the community to learn about potential impacts of the proposal. Completing Step 2 may inform the communities to engage with in Step 3.
- Step 4. Identify strategies for advancing racial equity. After Steps 2 and 3 are complete, look for potential unintended consequences, identify strategies to reduce disparate impacts, and find opportunities to partner.
- Step 5. Ensure accountability and communicate. Shortly after the comprehensive plan is adopted, consider how to ensure implementation of the strategies identified in Step 4, including communication strategies and ongoing engagement.
- Step 6. Evaluate outcomes and next steps. During and after proposal implementation, evaluate whether you are achieving the anticipated outcomes. Adjust actions if negative impacts or unintended consequences arise and incorporate findings into plan updates and other work.

Recent Local Examples

King County – Equity Impact Review (EIR) process

- Combines quantitative data and community engagement
- Used during the development of specific plans/policies, operations, and capital programs

Phase 1: Scope. Identify who will be affected.

- Identify how your action will affect/serve people and places using demographic information. Consider in particular low income populations, communities of color, and limited-English speaking residents.
 - Reach: which people and places will be affected by your action?
 - Intensity: what effects, impacts and/or outcomes will your action have on people and places?
 - Duration: how long will the action have an effect– short-, medium-, and/or long-term?
- Identify the group of stakeholders and affected parties – including those who have historically not been/felt included or engaged – and their roles in decision-making.

Phase 2: Assess equity and community context.

- Learn about affected communities', employees', and/or stakeholders' priorities and concerns. (Use the Community Engagement Guide to help with this.)
- Know which determinants of equity will be affected by your intended outcomes – both directly and indirectly. (Reference the Determinants of Equity report.)
- Know how your proposed course of action will affect known disparities within relevant determinants. (Use quantitative data and/or gather new information.)
- Identify potential unintended equity-related outcomes of this action.

Phase 3: Analysis and decision process.

- Project or map out how key alternatives will affect community and employee priorities and concerns.
- Evaluate each alternative for who will be disproportionately burdened or benefit - now and in the future. How will alternative actions differ in improving or worsening current equity conditions?
- Include upstream alternatives (and related costs) that target root causes to eliminate disproportionate impact.
- Prioritize alternatives by equitable outcomes and reconcile with functional and fiscal policy drivers.

Phase 4: Implement. Are you staying connected with communities and employees?

- Based on earlier use of Community Engagement Guide, communicate with communities, stakeholders and employees about how you will implement your action.
- Engage with affected communities and employees to guide successful implementation.
- Advance "pro-equity" opportunities when possible, i.e. contracting, hiring and promotion, materials sourcing, etc.
- Measure and evaluate your intended outcomes in collaboration with affected communities. Are there sufficient monitoring and accountability systems to identify unintended consequences? How will course corrections be handled if unintended consequences are identified?

Phase 5: Ongoing Learning. Listen, adjust, and co-learn with communities and employees.

- Evaluate whether your action appropriately responds to community priorities and concerns.
- Learn with the community to adjust your action as their priorities and concerns shift.
- Communicate progress to all stakeholders. Plan to include community feedback into future planning.

Comprehensive Plan Development Process

Equity Impact Assessment Steps

Draft Racial Equity Impact Assessment

- Uses framework from GARE Racial Equity Toolkit
 - Minor changes to reflect considerations and requirements of the comprehensive planning process
- Includes detailed worksheet and summary checklists
- Each step in the worksheet includes guidance and resources

Step 1 Guidance and Resources

Clearly describe the policies, programs or other elements of the comprehensive plan to analyze in the Racial Equity Impact Assessment. These are referred to as “proposals” for brevity. Early inclusive community engagement will help to identify the proposals. Proposals could be assessed for whether they have fewer benefits or greater negative impacts on communities of color, low-income communities and other marginalized groups. Research and analysis can also help to identify proposals that may have equity implications. Types of proposals to assess include planning for substantial development or change in a neighborhood, new or updated policies, new major projects or other important changes. Some comprehensive plan proposals that could have equity implications or disparate effects, such as displacement, include land use changes and center designations, transportation improvements, new and renovated parks, and technology investments. A proposal could be an effort to advance racial equity that you want to assess for the likelihood it will result in the intended outcomes.

Select the proposals of greatest importance to the community to assess as part of the comprehensive plan periodic update. Fill out an assessment worksheet for each proposal separately. Share the draft list and confirm the issues to assess and solicit input for Step 3 as part of early community engagement work, such as scoping.
